

VISUALIZING

What do good readers do?

Create mental images during and after reading.

Know that creating images helps in understanding and comprehending what they read.

Use images to draw conclusions.

Use images to recall details.

Use images to recall text after it has been read.

Revise their images to add new information.